WHY KING DAVID WAS FORGIVEN

Rev. F. F. Johnson Preaches at St. Paul's Church.

HE TELLS OF MONARCH'S SIN

MINISTER HAS NOT DECIDED WHETHER TO ACCEPT CALL.

DEV. F. F. JOHNSON of Redlands, Cal., who was recently called to the pastorate of St. Paul's church. preached there yesterday, forenoon and ening. Mr. Johnson is in the city to look over the field and to decide whether he will accept the call. He has not yet announced his decision, but it is expected that he will do so within about a week. He will return to California this evening or tomorrow

At the forenoon service the sermon was on the fall and repentance of David, the text being from the second book of Samuel, xi', 13: "David said unto Nathan, 'I have sinned against the Lord.' And Nathan said unto David, 'The Lord also hath put away they shall not die.'" thy sin: thou shalt not die."

The speaker related first the story of David's relations with Bathsheba, telling how the king had won her from Uriah, her husband, and then had sent the husband to the front of the line of battle, where he had perished. There is no darker picture in the e Bible gives us of the fall of Israel's

Mr. Johnson spoke of the suddenness of David's fall and cuoted the Latin proverb, "Nemo subito turpissimus fit"
—"Nobody becomes a perfect scoun-He argued that the apparently sudden lapses on the part of persons supposed to be virtuous are always so sudden as they may

'It was not really sudden," he said. The temptation has been dallied with, the possibility has been considered, the advantages have been weighed. The mind has been thoroughly familiarized with the thought, the thought of which the actual sin is but the incarnation, that the mind at last refuses to take ognizance of the real baseness of the

Enlarging upon this theme, he said:
"Prosperous times are perilous times.
Indolence and indulgence soon break down the moral stamina." The speaker spoke of the necessity of self-control to prevent the germs of evil from incubating and finally bursting forth. Then he took up the striving to live his life as God would have him live it, if such a one under a sudden impulse yields to wrong, if sometimes, through the weakness of his mortal nature, he fails to stand up-right—though he fall, he shall not be cast away, for the Lord upholdeth him Bear well in mind the distinction between a state of sin persisted and a single act of sin into which a man may ow and then be carried against the honest purpose of his life. If any man sin—that is, if any man against the straightforward, honest, earnest purpose of his life falls into single acts of South. we have an advocate with th father, Jesus Christ, the righteous. He is the propitiation for our sins."

Elder Morris Discourses on the Restoration of the Gospel.

Elder Nephi L. Morris addressed a arge congregation at the tabernacle resterday afternoon on the restoration of the gospel, from the standpoint of Mormonism. Elder Morris took the stand that God is as near to the human family today as in olden days: that revelation has not ceased, and hat the truth is gaining ground every The prophecy that Zion should as a lamp upon a hilltop and undden, was being fulfilled, the speaker said, and if the world would give the attention to Mormonism that fairness demands, everybody would be en-

The speaker traced the history of the gospel of Jesus Christ, its being taken from the earth, the efforts of crafty teachers in the first and second centuries to lead the people into the belief that it had been restored and the claims of various sects with reference to the nce to that question. He paid trib-ites to John Wesley, Martin Luther and other noted religionists, as servants of the Master, but contended that they did not hold the priesthood and never claimed to have held it, Wesley himself admitting the need of revelation, restoration and divine ap-

Sin an Insult to God.

Mr. Johnson went on to discuss David's frank admission that he alone was so blame, and that he had sinned not only against man, but against God. He declared that every person was responsible to God, and that every sin was an insult to the Supreme Being.

Pointing a lesson in David's forgiveness, the speaker said: "In David we see a man who habitually cherishes the fear and love of God in his heart. His conscious will is set to do the perfect will of God—we see this plainly in the character of David. The consensus of opinion was that the adherence to this policy would prompt every abutof opinion was that the adherence to this policy would prompt every abutting land owner to pay the city a reasonable price for the old canal route. The matter will be discussed further in committee, probably Thursday night.

Mt. Pleasant. Feb. 23.—The Rio Grande Western section men, who have been in Colton for a month or more putting up ice for the railroad company, returned this week. They report the ice to be the best harvested by the railroad for years. It is of great thickness and as clear as crystal. This year the company stored 10,000 tons in its ice houses at Colton, while it shipped 115 carloads to Thistie Junction and Helper, where there are small houses. Nothing of an unpleasant nature occurred, no mention was made of the bitterness engendered over the police muddle, and the trip was enjoyable in every way.

A Valuable Strip.

Commissioner Westerfield explained that in the four-rod strip from between Twelfth and Thirteenth South streets, running south a couple of miles, there are from twenty to twenty-five acres of land, worth from $200 to $400 an acre, which the farmers owning the abutting pieces are eager to buy from the city. The abandoned right of way along this strip is no longer serviceable to the city, for the reason that some years ago the canal channel was changed to run along a ple have interested themselves in the case with a view to settling the matter out of court. To this end the officers of Elmore county have been telegraphed and requested to drop the case upon expenses being paid and the money received on the check being returned. Sheriff Gray believes the boy was influenced by others while he was intoxicated to commit the crime, and is even doubtful whether he changed the figures, although he passed the check after it was changed, and that officer is now awaiting the decision of the prosecuting attorney of his county, upon which depends whether or not young Singleton will be taken north to-morrow.
